

The new Geberit urinal actuators

More Design, More Choice, More Functionality

Geberit International Sales AG, Rapperswil, 07 April 2009

Reliable function combined with attractive design. The new Geberit Sigma10 and Sigma50 urinal actuators aren't the only actuators with an impressive sleek and minimalist design. The Geberit range is now a stylish design family thanks to additional new urinal actuators. Matching urinal and toilet actuators enable a coordinated design in elegant bathrooms.

New Sigma urinal actuators

The new Geberit urinal actuators round out the Sigma toilet design series. Whether pneumatic or IR-triggered, Sigma urinal actuators are an attractive addition to any toilet.

Expanded design choices

More new pneumatic and IR urinal actuators enable cohesive stylistic details in bathrooms. A wide range of new urinal actuators is now available for the Geberit Samba, Rumba, Mambo, Bolero and Tango actuator plates.

Smaller and flatter

Not only do the urinal actuators come in a variety of materials and designs, they are also flatter and smaller. These new dimensions largely prevent the urinal lid from falling back unintentionally, for example. A larger tile cover compensates for uneven tile work.

At a glance:

- Complete and attractive design families: toilet actuator plates and new urinal actuators
- New urinal actuators with a sleek, minimalist design
- New urinal actuators are much flatter and smaller
- Flexible installation due to a larger tile cover
- Urinal actuators with security function to protect against theft
